Heidi earned a Master's degree in city planning after graduating from Mount Holyoke and then moved to Washington, DC where she worked as a planner. There she met her husband, Steve, and there they raised their two children; a son, Sandy, and a daughter, Holly. Cindy Parshall Karger wrote of her delightful visit to them one Fourth of July - visiting Mount Vernon and Georgetown. Cindy reported that when the children were grown, Heidi "took a degree in library science and went to work as a reference librarian in a poor section of the city. She loved her work." Heidi delighted in discovery, serving her community and traveling, with always more trips on her wish list. She had a quiet manner and a firm set of values. As Cindy said, "her spirit will be with us at Reunion"
