

Mary Anne Ashton King

October 1, 2008

After graduating from Mount Holyoke, Mary Anne received a doctorate in education from the University of Vermont. A long-time teacher and administrator at St. Johnsbury Academy in Vermont, Mary Anne contributed greatly to the formation and running of the ESL (English as a Second Language) program there, and frequently took students on international trips. She was also a longtime trustee at the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum and an active member of the North Congregational Church. She joined husband Brad in full retirement in 2006, but remained active as a library trustee and organizer of an academic lecture series for those over 50.

The Kings had 3 children, Daniel, Andrew and Jason, and two grandchildren at the time of Mary Anne's death. Over the years, a family summer camp on a small Vermont lake had become the beloved site of many outdoor adventures with their children and grandchildren.
