“I would not exchange the sorrows of my heart for the joys of the multitude. And I would not have the tears that sadness makes to flow from my every part turn into laughter.

I would that my life remain a tear and a smile.”

-Kahlil Gibran, “A Tear and a Smile”

Sharing Stories and Memories

We Remember Them Litany

We Remember Them

At the rising of the sun and at its going down,

We remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,

We remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,

We remember them.

At the shining of the sun and in the warmth of summer,

We remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,

We remember them.

At the beginning of the year and at its end,

We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now a part of us, as

We remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength

We remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart,

We remember them.

When we have joy we crave to share

We remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make,

We remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs,

We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now a part of us, as

We remember them.

A Closing Thought

“To live in the hearts we leave behind
Is not to die.”
- Thomas Campbell

And Words of Comfort and Hope

May you see the light in the darkness during these challenging times.

May you feel the loving presence of those who hold you in their thoughts and prayers.

May your spirit find what it needs to sustain you on this journey.

May you discover your inner strength & face all difficulties with dignity & grace.

May you be filled with comfort, love, strength, grace & a lasting sense of peace.
