Ann M. Beha FAIA, Wellesley 1972

Ann Beha Architects is designing the expansion of the New Britain Museum of American Art, having designed the museum's award winning new building eight years ago. Based in Boston, Ann's 30 year practice works nationally and internationally on cultural, civic, and academic buildings, advocating innovative contemporary design within historical settings, and exploring historic preservation as both a design opportunity and a tension between the old and new.

$27.50 per person; cash bar available
RSVP before April 25th to Muriel Fleischmann W'59
